Seagulls Only Residents Of Ellis Island

By ROBERT ZIMMERMAN
ELLIS ISLAND, N. Y., Nov. 13 (UP)—The seagulls took over Ellis Island Saturday.

Unlike the 20 million immigrants who had to wait on the island a day, a week, or even months and years while the U. S. government decided whether to let them in, the seagulls will come and go as they please.

The U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service has completed an orderly and somewhat nostalgic retreat from the island in New York harbor which for 62 years stood as America's gateway for aliens from every country on the map.

For the time being at least the island and its 27 buildings will be vacant.

Land Commissioner . . .

(Continued from Page 1) credit for making a payment on it and politics, I took my leave of the Commissioner and returned to the capitol where, after more checking I found that the veteran in question was not listed on the tax rolls of Zavalla county. This was understandable since there is a great deal of time lag between the purchase of land and its being rendered for taxation.

While checking the tax rolls of Zavala I was reminded of another Negro in Cuero by the name of Herbert J. Franklin of 512 West Morgan Street. I had asked this vet if he had ever received anything in the way of a title to lead him to believe he had purchased land in the Wintergarden Development Company. He said he had nothing except an $11.70 check he had received some time ago. I asked if he had ever seen the land.
